(i) Discretionary Portfolio Management Services:-

The investment objectives and/or strategies of the existing portfolio strategies are as follows:-

1. DHFL PRAMERICA DEEP VALUE PORTFOLIO/STRATEGY:

Investment objective: DHFL Pramerica Deep Value Strategy seeks to generate returns by investing in a portfolio of value stocks which have the potential of superior wealth creation over long term.

Investment strategy: Value Stocks represent companies with strong fundamentals which are undervalued by markets or are available at less than its intrinsic value. This strategy does not have a market cap bias. Primary Screening for the strategy will be based on projected cash flows from operations relative to the market value of assets. Within the shortlisted stocks, the strategy will seek to identify stocks which have the potential of high growth based on business projections, projected cash flows and asset price monetization strategies. Growth stocks typically trade at a higher PE multiple. However, within the shortlist, the strategy will seek to identify stocks which are available at a reasonable price when seen in light of projected cash flows and market value of assets. Since, markets usually take time to spot value, this strategy requires a longer holding period. Hence, this strategy is suitable for investors with investment horizon of at least 3 years.

2. DHFL PRAMERICA L.I.F.E. (LONG-TERM INVESTMENT IN FILTERED EQUITIES) PORTFOLIO STRATEGY:

This strategy seeks to aim to build a portfolio of companies that one would buy and hold for a very long time (at least 10 years, if not more). The investment universe would be restricted to not more than 15 or 20 companies, since there would not be more than that number of companies that one would be confident of holding for such a long time. All companies in the portfolio would have strong balance sheets, a well-established position in their respective businesses, boast of strong management bandwidth at multiple levels, have a long track record of rewarding shareholders well, and the ability to grow without much equity dilution or significant levels of debt. They will not be in businesses classified as “cyclical”. Investment opportunities will be few and far between.

3. DHFL PRAMERICA DEBT STRATEGY:

DHFL Pramerica Debt Strategy seeks to provide reasonable returns, commensurate with moderate level of risk, through a portfolio constituted of all types of debt and money market instruments including, but not limited to, Commercial Paper, Certificates of Deposit, Treasury bills, Non - convertible Debentures, Bonds, Central and State government Securities, etc.

4. DHFL PRAMERICA EQUITY PORTFOLIO:

Investment Objective:

The aim of the portfolio is to deliver capital growth from an actively managed portfolio, mainly comprising companies registered in and / or listed on a regulated market of India.

Investment Strategy:

The portfolio will invest across a range of market capitalizations with a preference for medium and large companies.

Investment Philosophy:

A top down and bottom up approach will be used to invest in equity and equity related instruments. Investments will be pursued in select sectors based on the Investment team's analysis of business cycles, regulatory reforms, competitive advantage etc. Selective stock picking will be done from these sectors. The portfolio manager, in selecting scripts, will focus among other aspects, on the fundamentals of the business, the industry structure, the quality of management, sensitivity to economic factors, the financial strength of the company and the key earnings drivers. Since investing requires disciplined risk management, the Portfolio Manager would incorporate adequate safeguards for controlling risks in the portfolio construction process. Stock specific risk will be minimized by investing only in those companies that have been analyzed by the Investment team. Risk will also be reduced through adequate diversification of the portfolio. Diversification will be achieved by spreading the investments over a range of industries / sectors. The portfolio may also invest in unlisted and / or privately placed securities.

5. VRISHABHA STRATEGY:

Investment objective: Vrishabha Strategy seeks to generate returns by investing in a portfolio having a ratio of 90:10 exposure to value equity stocks and Nifty Call options at the inception of the portfolio which have the potential of superior wealth creation over long term.

Investment strategy: Value Stocks represent companies with strong fundamentals which are undervalued by markets or are available at less than its intrinsic value. This strategy shall invest minimum of 40% in large cap stocks, maximum of 30% in mid-cap stocks and maximum of 20% in small-cap stocks. Further, the strategy shall invest upto 10% in Nifty call options at the inception of the portfolio. Primary Screening for the strategy will be based on projected cash flows from operations relative to the market value of assets. Within the shortlisted stocks, the strategy will seek to identify stocks which have the potential of high growth based on business projections, projected cash flows and asset price monetization strategies. Growth stocks typically trade at a higher PE multiple. However, within the shortlist, the strategy will seek to identify stocks which are available at a reasonable price when seen in light of projected cash flows and market value of assets. Since, markets usually take time to spot value, this strategy requires a longer holding period. Hence, this strategy is suitable for investors with investment horizon of at least 3 years.

6. DHFL PRAMERICA PHOENIX STRATEGY:

Investment Objective: The objective of the strategy is to generate capital appreciation over the long term by investing in a portfolio of equity of Indian companies.

Asset Allocation: The strategy seeks to invest in the equity shares of companies listed on the Indian stock markets. At least 75% of the portfolio would be invested in the shares of mid cap and small cap companies. Mid cap and small cap companies are companies which are below the top 100 market cap companies.

Investment Strategy: “Reversion to mean” is the central theme of the product. The Portfolio Manager would chose stocks of companies that, in its’ assessment, are close to an inflection point in their lifecycle. The Phoenix, as the name suggests, would concentrate on companies:

- whose financial and operational performance (profit margins, market share etc) at the time of investment would be below the long-term average performance displayed by the company; or
- companies that are likely to benefit from a structural change in the nature of business or industry (eg, shift in market share from unorganized to organized sector)

At least 75% of the portfolio would be invested in companies that satisfy these themes.

B. Policy on Investment in group/associate companies:-

The Portfolio Manager may invest in Securities of associate/group companies in the normal course of investment activity upto the maximum permissible limits, subject to the applicable laws/regulations and consistent with the particular investment objectives and strategies.

(6) RISK FACTORS

General:

1. The investments made by the Portfolio Manager are subject to risks arising from the investment objective, investment strategy and asset allocation.
2. The Portfolio Manager has no previous experience / track record in providing portfolio management services, other than acting as an investment adviser and manager to DHFL Pramerica Mutual Fund, in its capacity as an asset management company to the mutual fund.
3. Performance of the promoter or the schemes of DHFL Pramerica Mutual Fund managed by the AMC have no bearing on the expected performance of the Portfolio Manager. Past performance of the sponsor and its affiliates, the AMC or the Mutual Fund does not indicate the future performance of the Portfolio Manager and may not necessarily provide a basis of comparison.
4. Securities investments are subject to market risks, company specific risks and other risks and there is no assurance or guarantee that the objectives of the investments as set out in this Disclosure Document and/or the Client Agreement will be achieved. The investment value of the Portfolio may increase or decrease depending on various markets forces and factors affecting stock markets. Investments in the Portfolio Management Strategies stand a risk of loss of capital and the Clients should be aware that they may lose all or any part of their investments.
5. The performance of the Portfolio may be affected by changes in Government policies, general levels of interest rates and risks associated with trading volumes, liquidity and settlement systems in equity and debt markets.
6. Investment decisions made by the Portfolio Manager may not always be profitable. While the Portfolio Manager shall take all reasonable steps to invest the Funds in a prudent manner, such decisions may not always prove to be profitable or correct. Consequently, the Client shall assume any loss arising from such decisions made by the Portfolio Manager.
7. Investors are not being offered any guaranteed returns. The Portfolio Manager is neither responsible nor liable for any losses resulting from the Services or operations of the Clients' Portfolios.
8. The investment made by the Portfolio Manager is subject to risk arising out of non-diversification of the Portfolio in a wide variety of instruments, particularly in relation to Discretionary Portfolio Management Services where the Portfolio is managed at the discretion of the Portfolio Manager.
9. The investments and growth of the Portfolio are subject to a very wide range of risks which include loss in value of investments due to, inter alia:
 - (a) Overall economic slowdown, unanticipated corporate performance, environmental or political problems, changes to monetary or fiscal policies (including changes in tax laws and rates), changes in government policies and regulations;
 - (b) Act of state, sovereign action, acts of God, acts of war, civil disturbance;
 - (c) Delisting or market closure, relatively small number of scrips accounting for a large proportion of trading volume.
10. The investments are also subject to liquidity risk in the market, settlement risk, impeding readjustment of portfolio composition, highly volatile stock markets in India. There is also risk of total loss of value of an asset or recovery of losses in investments only through expensive legal processes.

11. Liquidity Risk: Liquidity of investments in equity and equity related securities are often restricted by factors such as trading volumes, settlement periods and transfer procedures. If a particular security does not have a market at the time of sale, then the Portfolio may have to bear an impact depending on its exposure to that particular security. While Securities that are listed on a stock exchange generally carry a lower liquidity risk, the ability to sell these investments is limited by overall trading volume on the stock exchange. Money market securities lack a well developed secondary market, which may restrict the selling ability of such securities thereby resulting in a loss to the Portfolio until such securities are finally sold. Even upon termination of the Agreement, the Client may receive illiquid securities and finding a buyer for such Securities may be difficult. Further, different segments of the Indian financial markets have different settlement periods and such periods may be extended significantly by unforeseen circumstances. Delays or other problems in settlement of transactions could result in temporary periods when the assets of the scheme are un-invested and no return is earned thereon. The inability of the Portfolio Manager to make intended Securities purchases, due to settlement problems, could cause the Portfolio to miss certain investment opportunities.
12. The Portfolio Manager may invest in the units issued by SEBI registered Venture Capital Fund (VCF)/Alternate Investment Funds (AIF). Many of such investments made by the VCF/AIF may be illiquid, and there can be no assurance that the VCF/AIF will be able to realize profits on its investments in a timely manner. Since the VCF/AIF may make only a limited number of investments and these may involve a high degree of risk, poor performance by even a few of these investments could lead to adverse effects on the returns received by investors.
13. After accepting the corpus for management, the Portfolio Manager may not get an opportunity to deploy the same or there may be delay in deployment. In such situation the Clients may suffer opportunity loss.
14. The ability of Clients to withdraw the Funds / Portfolio or to transfer any of the interests, rights or obligations with regard to the Portfolio may be restricted under the terms of the Client Agreement and the Regulations.
15. Changes in Applicable Law may impact the performance of the Portfolio.
16. The clients may not be able to avail of securities transaction tax credit benefit and/or tax deduction at source (TDS) credit and this may result in an increased incidence of tax on the Clients. The client may incur a higher rate of TDS/ Dividend Distribution Tax in case the investments are aggregated.
17. The arrangement of pooling of funds from various clients and investing them in Securities could be construed as an 'Association of Persons' (AOP) in India under the provisions of the Income-tax Act, 1961 and taxed accordingly.
18. In case of investments in mutual fund units, the client shall bear the recurring expenses of the mutual fund in addition to the expenses of the Portfolio Manager. Hence, the Client may receive lower pre-tax returns compared to what he may receive had he invested directly in the underlying mutual fund schemes in the same proportions.
19. There may be potential or perceived conflict of interest on the part of the Portfolio Manager in case of investments of investors/clients' assets in the schemes of DHFL Pramerica Mutual Fund to which DHFL Pramerica Asset Managers Private Limited is acting the asset management company. However, the Portfolio Manager shall ensure that the investments are in the interest of the investors. Further, the Portfolio Manager has proper systems and controls in place to ensure that there is no conflict of interest between the activity of managing the schemes of DHFL Pramerica Mutual Fund and the activity of portfolio management services.

20. Prospective clients should review / study the Disclosure Document carefully and in its entirety and should not construe the contents or summaries contained herein as advice relating to legal, taxation, or financial / investment matters and are advised to consult their own professional advisor(s) as to the legal, tax, financial or any other requirements or restrictions relating to the subscription, gifting, acquisition, holding, disposal (sale or conversion into money) of the Portfolio and to the treatment of income (if any), capitalisation, capital gains, any distribution, and other tax consequences relevant to their Portfolio, acquisition, holding, capitalisation, disposal (whether by sale, transfer or conversion into money) of the Portfolio within their jurisdiction of nationality, residence, incorporation, domicile etc. or under the laws of any jurisdiction to which they or any managed funds to be used to purchase/gift portfolio of securities are subject, and also to determine possible legal, tax, financial or other consequences of subscribing / gifting, purchasing or holding portfolio of securities before making an investment.

Risk Associated with Debt Instruments:

1. Investments in debt instruments and other fixed income securities are subject to default risk, liquidity risk and interest rate risk and may also be subject to price volatility due to such factors as interest sensitivity, market perception, or the credit worthiness of the issuer and general market risk.
2. Interest rate risk is associated with movements in interest rates, which depend on various factors such as government borrowing, inflation, economic performance, changes in demand and supply for money and other macroeconomic factors and creates price changes in the value of the debt instruments. The value of investments in fixed income Securities will appreciate / depreciate if the interest rates fall/rise. Consequently, the value of the Portfolio may be subject to fluctuation.
3. Investments in debt instruments are subject to reinvestment risks as interest rates prevailing on interest amount or maturity due dates may differ from the original coupon of the bond, which might result in the proceeds being invested at a lower rate.
4. Investments in non-publicly offered debt securities (where permitted by the investment mandate) may expose the Client's Portfolio to liquidity risks.

Risk Associated with Equity Investments

1. Equity instruments carry both company specific and market risks, in addition to the risks stated above, and hence no assurance of returns can be made for these investments.
2. Investments in unlisted securities (where permitted by the Investment mandate) may expose the Client's portfolio to liquidity risks.

Risk Associated with Derivatives

1. Derivative products are leveraged instruments and can provide disproportionate gains or losses to the investor. Identification and execution of the strategies to be pursued by the Portfolio Manager involve uncertainty and the decision of the Portfolio Manager may not always be profitable. No assurance can be given that the Portfolio Manager will be able to identify or execute such strategies.

2. The risks associated with the use of derivatives are different from and possibly greater than, the risks associated with investing directly in Securities and other traditional investments. Therefore, derivatives require investment techniques and risk analysis different from those associated with traditional Securities such as stocks and bonds. The use of derivatives requires an understanding not only of the underlying instrument but also of the derivative itself. Derivatives require the maintenance of adequate controls to monitor the transactions entered into, the ability to assess the risk that a derivative adds to the portfolio and the ability to forecast price or interest rate movements correctly. If the Portfolio Manager is incorrect in the forecasts of market values and currency exchange rates, the investment performance of the portfolio may be less favourable than it would have been if this investment technique were not used.
3. An investment in derivatives may involve additional risks for investors. These additional risks may arise as a result of any or all of the following.
 - (a) the creditworthiness of the counterparties to such derivative transactions. [There is the possibility that a loss may be sustained by the portfolio as a result of the failure of the counterparty to comply with the terms of the derivatives contract]; and/or
 - (b) the potential illiquidity of the markets for Derivatives.
4. Other risks in using derivatives include the risk of MIS pricing or improper valuation of derivatives and the inability of derivatives to correlate perfectly with underlying assets, rates and indices.

To the extent that derivatives are utilised to seek to achieve the investment objectives of the client, and for purposes other than hedging, the overall risk of loss to the investor may be increased. To the extent that derivatives are utilised for hedging purposes, the risk of loss to the investor may be increased where the value of the derivative instrument and the value of the Security or position which it is hedging are insufficiently correlated.

² The CBDT, vide Notification No. 9/2014/ F. No. 173/10/2014-(ITA.I) dated 22 January 2014, has clarified that FPIs registered with SEBI under the SEBI (Foreign Portfolio Investors) Regulations, 2014 would be regarded as ‘Foreign Institutional Investors’ as per the Explanation to section 115AD of the Act.

clarifications issued by the Central Board of Direct Taxes (CBDT) vide circular/instructions.

In this regard, CBDT issued Circular No 6 dated 29 February 2016 on the tax treatment of surplus arising from transfer of listed shares/ securities whether capital gains or business income. with a view to reduce litigation and uncertainty and in partial modification to earlier CBDT Circulars, the 2016 Circular instructs tax authorities to consider certain guidelines for classifying listed shares/ securities as under:

- Where the taxpayer itself, irrespective of the period of holding of the listed securities treats the gains from sale of such securities as business income, the same should be accepted by the tax authorities.
- Where the taxpayer wishes to treat the gains arising from transfer of listed securities held for a period more than 12 months immediately preceding the date of its transfer as capital gains, the same should not be put to any dispute by the tax authorities.
- In all other cases, the nature of transaction (i.e. whether the same is in the nature of capital gains or business income) shall continue to be decided keeping in view the other notifications/ circulars issued by CBDT in this regard.

The CBDT further issued Instruction No.225/12/2016 dated 2 May 2016 clarifying that the income arising from transfer of unlisted shares would be taxable under the head 'Capital Gains', irrespective of period of holding. The Instruction has carved out following situations from its scope:

- When the genuineness of transactions in the unlisted shares is questionable;
- Where the transfer of unlisted shares is related to an issue pertaining to lifting of corporate veil; and
- Where the transfer of unlisted shares is made along with the control and management of underlying business.

The Finance (No.2) Act, 2014 amended the definition of "capital asset" to include any security held by a FPI in accordance with the regulations made under the SEBI, Act 1992. By virtue of the said amendment, any income arising to a FPI on transfer of such security would be characterised as 'Capital gains'.

D. Short-Term and Long-Term Capital Gains on Sale of Securities

Where investments under the portfolio management services are held by the investor on capital account, then the profit or loss from transfer of securities is taxed as 'Capital gains' under section 45 of the Act.

The rate of tax and other tax implications would also vary depending upon whether the capital asset sold is a short-term capital asset or a long-term capital asset.

As per section 2(42A) of the Act, any unlisted securities (other than a unit) [such as unlisted equity/ preference shares] and units of a mutual fund (other than an equity oriented fund) shall be considered as a short-term capital asset where the same are held for a period of 36 months or less immediately preceding their date of transfer. However, a security (other than a unit) listed in a recognized stock exchange in India or a unit of an equity oriented fund, held for a period of 12 months or less would be termed as a short-term asset. The Finance Act, 2016 further amended section 2(42A) of the Act to provide that shares of a company (not being shares listed in a recognized stock exchange in India) shall be considered as short-term capital asset where the same are held for a period of 24 months or less immediately preceding their date of transfer.

All capital assets which are not short-term capital assets are treated as long-term capital assets.

Gains arising from a short-term capital asset are regarded as short-term capital gains and gains arising from long-term capital assets be regarded as long-term capital gains.

As per the provisions of section 48 of the Act, capital gains/ losses are computed by reducing from the sale consideration:

- i. the cost of acquisition of the asset transferred; and
- ii. any expenditure incurred wholly and exclusively in connection with the transfer.

Additionally, the status of tax payer (i.e. whether the tax payer is an individual, a corporate, etc), whether the transfer has been subject to Securities Transaction Tax (STT), the nature of the instrument sold, etc also impact the rate of tax applicable to capital gains arising from the transfer of a capital asset. Some of these aspects have been discussed below.

Capital gains tax on sale transaction on which STT is chargeable

STT is a transaction based tax collected by the stock exchange and is applicable on all transactions effected on the exchange.

The following table provides the details in respect of the rate of STT applicable (as on date) to respective taxable securities transactions (unless mentioned otherwise, the STT is payable by the seller):

Transaction for sale of an option	Seller	The option premium	0.05

in securities where option is not exercised

However, such long-term capital gains which are exempt under section 10(38) of the Act are taken into account in computing the book profit and income-tax payable under section 115JB of the Act.

In the case of listed securities or zero coupon bond (as defined under the Act), a tax payer has an option to apply the concessional rate of 10% plus surcharge as applicable and cess, provided the long-term capital gains are computed without substituting the indexed cost in place of the cost of acquisition. As per the Finance (No. 2) Act, 2014, long-term capital gains arising on sale of units of a mutual fund⁵, where the transfer is undertaken on or after 11 July 2014, would be taxable at the rate of 20% plus surcharge as applicable and cess.
